1. Salmon Farming is causing a variety of health problems for those who have found themselves living in the middle of it. The noise from the industrial ships are worthy of attention from the court of human rights. Imagine a truck revving its engine outside your bedroom while you try and sleep. People live here for the peace and quiet but you have ruined so many lives through constant horrendous, torturous noise.
2. The Government should have consulted the community before allowing such a destructive and greedy industry into our waterways to ruin and destroy our beautiful natural environment.
3. Money is always behind these decisions somewhere but even that is not flowing through to health and education for the people of Tasmania.
4. The disgraceful way the Government blames the community for putting jobs at risk is despicable. It would be the Governments fault if people lost those jobs. If the industry became land based those jobs would stay.
5. There should be continual information sharing between the Government and the community and particularly the chance for consultations regarding decisions going forward for the industry.
6. The Government needs to be far more open and transparent when making decisions that affect people so personally. Currently your recent record is not looking too good , so this could definitely show people you are willing to be more open to those you claim to represent.
